Activists

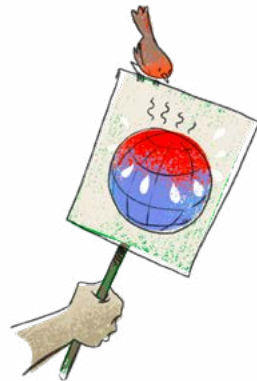

You are a land-use planner, an architect, or you know about local and regional planning procedures?

You know our democratic system on a local and European level?

You are familiar with the environmental law on a local and European level?

You want to get involved in organising and mobilising for direct action, like the climate protests?

Foodie people

You want to make and try delicious and easy veggie recipes?

Nature education people

You have training in nature education and/or want to work outdoors with children?

Media people

You are a keen photographer or video-maker or want to find out how it's done?

You are an illustrator or graphic designer and want to help us get our message across?

Local people

You want to get more involved at grassroots level and raise awareness in your local community?

Exhibition people

You enjoy discovering new things about nature and sharing your knowledge with visitors?

Gardening people

You'd like to help plant and harvest local food at the 2000m² demonstration field in Kockelscheuer?

Nature people

You'd like to help provide homes for birds, bats and insects?

You fancy doing some pre-spring physical maintenance and management work on nature reserves?

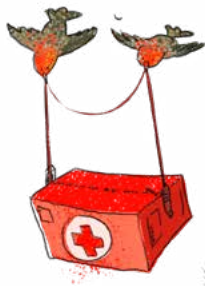

Animal people

You want to lend a hand at our care centre for wildlife and nurse sick and injured wild animals?

You'd like to find out about wasps and help people to get on with them?

You know birds by heart or even are an ornithologist and want to help us monitor?

You want to get together with friends and neighbours in spring to save the toads from road kill?
